

Falkirk or Paradise?

Callendar House, Falkirk. Saturday January 16th 2016

"Tonight we shall lie either in Falkirk or in Paradise"

— reported words of Lord George Murray, General of the Jacobite Army, January 17th 1746

Falkirk, the forgotten battle.....the penultimate battle fought on British soil.... the final Jacobite triumph, yet a pyrrhic victory which left Prince Charlie's forces severely depleted.....

To commemorate the 270th anniversary of the battle, The 1745 Association is organising a free event:

Midday: Those who wish to enjoy The Prince's Dinner before the Main Event will gather in the Green Room, Callendar House, where, on September 14th 1745, Prince Charles Edward Stuart dined with the Earl of Kilmarnock.

1:30 PM: Main Event. Welcome and Introduction to Callendar House and the Earl of Kilmarnock during the '45 (Michael Nevin).

2:00 PM: The group will depart for a guided tour of the Battle of Falkirk by Geoff Bailey, author of Falkirk or Paradise , the authoritative account of the battle.

3:45 PM: Return by way of Falkirk Parish Church, to pay our respects at the graves of the Hanoverian and Jacobite officers who fell at Falkirk.

4:30 PM: Return to Callendar House for a cup of tea, coffee or mulled wine, with bannock / scones. 5:00 PM: Close.

For further information and to book contact Michael Nevin, either by e-mail on mike@nevinassociates.co.uk, or by phone on 0782 4829 445